

SustainFest 2022

October 7th, 2022 in Lilongwe at Tsokamkanasi School from 9:00 am

“My seed, my food, my pride”

Schools and Colleges Permaculture (SCOPE) Malawi in partnership with Seed and Knowledge Initiative (SKI), Biodiversity Conservation Initiative (BCI), and Soils Food and Healthy Communities (SFHC) is organizing the first SustainFest in Malawi, themed “My seed, my food, my pride”. We want to celebrate the beauty of indigenous food and seed with like-minded individuals and groups, organizations, and government representatives.

Who are we?

As SCOPE Malawi, BCI, SFHC, and SKI we are working towards the common goal of a food sovereign Malawi. To turn this vision into reality we work with schools and farmers to empower people to take care of the planet, appreciate local resources, and become more food secure. We believe in the power and beauty of indigenous seeds to nurture our future generations.

What to expect

Diversity! From cooking five-star dishes using only locally available food to a national seed fair, we want to celebrate diversity in Malawi. The SustainFest will set the stage for green innovations in various areas of life, climate-resilient local seeds, and ancient food that will send your taste buds on a journey. We will spice the event up with colorful performances from local talents.

How can you become a part of it?

Are you:

- ❖ Interested in indigenous food, and seeds?
 - A chef using local ingredients to do your magic?
 - Running a sustainable business in Malawi?
 - An artist admiring local arts & crafts?
- ❖ You can also:
 - Support us financially or donate equipment
 - Volunteer during the event and become a member of our collective hub
 - Spread the news #SustainFestMW #proudly265 #myseedmyfoodmypride
- ❖ Book a table to display with MacDonald 0881575152 or Gloria 0882507357

For further enquiries contact us: 0999939060 /0885517925 or scope@scopemalawi.com